Beckley Ruling Applies; USED IN OTHER CASE

The ruling by the supreme court lately in connection with the suit over the point as to whether Mrs. George Beckley lost her minority through being married has led to another case being filed in connection with property owned by a minor.

A little while ago W. C. Achi as guardian of Maud K. Crowell filed a complaint against C. Lal Young and Annie L. Mattos in which he alleged that his guardian had been forced to make over a conveyance against her will and that the property should be given back to her.

This morning the defendant, Young, filed an answer to the complaint in which he denies the allegation that any force or pressure was used. At the same time he now admits that by the ruling of the supreme court in the Beckley case that the land should be reconveyed to Miss Crowell. He is willing to do this but asks that he be reimbursed for the money that he has expended. Half of the land was deeded to him and the other half to her in trust. His half was as a remuneration for money advanced.

COMBATIVE OFFICERS BARRED FROM SHERMAN CONVIVIALITY

Lieut. Hicks Must Be Good Though Lonesome on the Remainder of the Voyage to Manila—Mauna Kea the Only Morning Arrival—Coal Freighter Due Daily.

Lieutenant F. H. Hicks is in line for official ostracization during the next twenty days that the United States Army transport Sherman is steaming in the direction of Manila, Philippine Islands.

It was stated that Hicks would not be encouraged in taking part in any of the little pink teas or social affairs that are the rule on American transports. It was also claimed by those in a position to state, that Hicks had been involved in other difficulties before his arrival at Honolulu.

The departure of the troopship with the bolstering contingent of army officers was closely watched by the local police. That they were expecting trouble was apparent and for this reason the authorities whose business it is to preserve peace, were prepared to carry out their intentions to the letter.

SOLUTION IS STILL POSSIBLE

Following on a conference held this morning between the Governor and Frederick E. Steere of the Henry Waterhouse Trust Company it is possible that there can be some settlement of the Bishop street extension made without having to follow the regular course of the law.

The matter was thoroughly gone into and although the Governor did not say anything as to the details of the plan he stated that they may yet be able to carry through.

The matter of settling the Ewa corner of Hotel and Union streets is to be pushed ahead without awaiting for any settlement of the street extension. This will mean that the Brewer estate can go ahead and put up their new building. The Governor also stated that the erection of the building would also mean that the Bishop street extensions had been helped along.

SUPREME COURT JUSTICE DEAD

John Marshall Harlan was born in Boyle County, Ky., June 1, 1833. He was graduated from Centre College, Ky., studied law at Transylvania University, entering upon the practice of his profession at Frankfort. In 1858 he became county judge and was Whig candidate for Congress in 1859, but was not elected. In the Civil War he served in the Union Army as colonel of a Kentucky regiment, and in 1863-6 was attorney general of his State. He was Republican nominee for Governor in 1871 and 1875, but was defeated upon both occasions. In the Republican National convention of 1872 his name was presented by the Kentucky delegation for the nomination of vice-president of the United States. In 1877 he was appointed a member of the commission to investigate the troubles in Louisiana; and in November of that year he was appointed associate justice of the United States Supreme Court, of which he was considered one of the most able and independent members. He supported the constitutionality of the income tax clause of the Wilson Tariff bill.

JARRETT IS A MIGHTY HUNTER

"During my absence from Honolulu, I shot and killed about seven hundred goats on Kahoolawe. Many more must be destroyed before the island is available for agricultural purposes."

Sheriff Jarrett, who spent his vacation of two weeks on Kahoolawe, returned this morning in the Mauna Kea, a mighty hunter. He feels that he should be styled a sharpshooter, because out of seven hundred and fifty shots he fired, he killed seven hundred of the frisky animals.

Jarrett is looking fine after his vacation. He was the guest of Supervisor Eben Low, who however, did not return this morning. Jarrett stated that the algeria trees on Kahoolawe are only growing in gulches, where the strong wind does not blow quite regularly. On level grounds, he said the wind is so terrific that it uproots the algeria trees in great number.

The island, which was thickly populated with goats a few years ago, only requires a little experimenting before it will become a useful island for agricultural purposes.

STENOGRAPHER'S RIGHTS FOR SUPREME COURT

The matter of whether or not the court stenographers are to do work for the Territory without any extra charge will now be settled once and for all by the supreme court. The attorney general's department this morning filed a motion with the land registrar asking that they be supplied with a copy of the evidence in the Lathala land case, free of charge.

Judge W. J. Robinson refused to sign the order to the stenographer on the grounds that the Territory was asking for the transcript to be made free of charge.

Following on this the attorney general's department will file a suit that will bring the matter before the supreme court so that all future argument will be stopped.

CHARGES MADE AGAINST GUARDIAN OF CHILDREN

Allegations have been filed in the Circuit Court against Daniel Kikah, guardian of John E. K. Victoria, Edith B. C. B. K. and Hiram J. K. Anahau. He is charged with having used certain money that came to him as guardian for the children.

The amount involved is $1015.75, and Judge W. J. Robinson has made an order that he shall appear before the court and explain his accounts and also the fact that he has not entered his accounts with the court as ordered.

YEAR'S WORK IS REVIEWED

The Honolulu Library and Reading Room Association was re-elected by a flourishing condition at its annual meeting last evening. The report of Miss Edith Allen, librarian, showed a gratifying increase in the number of books loaned during the year, and throughout her report was most satisfactory.

This meeting was probably the last in the present library quarters as it is expected that the new library of Hawaii building will be finished and in use before time for another annual session. In accordance with a proposal made last evening the charter will be amended in time for the removal to the new site. This revision will make it possible for the board of trustees to serve perpetually and to have charge of the investments of the association.

An election of officers resulted in the choice of the following: President, Prof. M. M. Scott, vice president W. D. Alexander; secretary and auditor, J. H. Fisher; treasurer, Alonzo Cartley. Messrs. Scott, Weaver and Anthony Loftis were elected trustees to succeed themselves. The new administration committee consists of Messrs. Cartley, Blake and Atherton and the literary committee consists of Messrs. Alexander, Loftis and Weaver.

All books now in the possession of the association will be turned over to the new building when it is finished and the income from the present investments will be given to the support of the new institution.

MANY FAMILIES ON WILLESSEN

By cable this morning the Board of Immigration received information from A. J. Campbell, the recruiting agent in Europe, as to the number of families and the vital statistics of the immigrants aboard the British ship Willesden, now on its way here.

There are 352 families aboard, 260 single men, 427 males under sixteen years of age, 640 males over sixteen, 376 females under sixteen, 466 over sixteen, and 1441 full fares. There are 540 Portuguese on board and 1399 Spaniards.

EXTENSIVE PLANS FOR TRAINING GUARD OF HAWAII

Captain Johnson, inspector-instructor of the National Guard of Hawaii, who arrived on the transport Sherman Thursday morning, is already "on the job," and within the next week a policy of theoretical and tactical instruction for the militia organization of the Territory will be mapped out in accordance with the instructions set down by the War Department.

Captain Johnson has just completed the special course laid out for National Guard instructors, and is primed with the very latest methods for schooling State and Territorial troops. His office will be in connection with that of Colonel Jones, adjutant general of the National Guard of Hawaii, near the executive buildings. This morning Captain Johnson paid his respects to General Macomb and discussed military conditions on Oahu for some time.

The army engineers are making a present of a tidy parcel of land to the marine barracks at Camp Young. Dredging operations at Port Armo-trong have made it possible to reclaim considerable land on the shore side of the camp, and about two acres will be added when the filling is completed. This will build up the shore line to the 10-foot level for the entire frontage.

Two soldiers who failed to make connections with the Sherman when she sailed Friday afternoon were picked up by the marine patrol last night. They are Privates Rafferty and Jensen of the infantry, unattached, and have been sent to Fort Shafter to await the coming of the next transport and, incidentally, to perform a large quota of extra duty.

Private Dicky of the Marine Corps was today promoted to be a corporal.

SULLIVAN DENIES STORY.

Dick Sullivan today reiterated his denial of yesterday that he had followed the army officers from the transport Sherman and sought the right into which they finally forced him.

"I see Jim Quinn says I had a gang," said Sullivan this morning. "It is true that when the officer and I had words in front of the Young Hotel, a crowd gathered and some of my friends came running up, but everybody who knows the facts knows that I did not start it. I am sorry this thing came up, but I feel myself entirely blameless in the matter."

The American-Hawaiian freighter Alaskan with a large shipment of sugar is reported to have arrived at Salina Cruz yesterday. The freighter also carried a consignment of pineapples.
